A friend of mine did The Daniel Fast at the beginning of the year and I decided that I would make this part of my Lenten devotion. When I started it I was very apprehensive as I have never followed a vegan diet in my life. Eliminating so many things at one time; meat, cheese, eggs, milk, coffee, sweeteners, alcohol...well, there were times it was tough to stay the course but I did it. My intention wasn't to lose weight but I did. 5 pounds in 21 days. The recipes for breakfast, lunch, dinner as well as snacks were fantastic! I told a friend of mine about it and she bought the book as well and although she didn't do the fast we were sharing meals we had prepared different things. Regardless of the reason I highly recommend this to anyone who is looking for a stronger connection to God.

I would recommend this to my sisters in Christ who are trying to have a closer relationship w/God as well as trying to become healthier physically and spiritually. Easy reading keeps your attention longer.

This is only a workbook and not an informational book. I was disappointed and felt the description was misleading. It is full of questions to probe further thinking that may be useful if you're interested in that

This came in great time and I have already done some reading and studying this. It has some great information and I am sure that it will be of great value to me in the years ahead

I recommend this to anyone desiring a closer walk with God through prayer and fasting. This book includes a wise approach to fasting while being mindful of the health needs of the body during this time of consecration.

I wish this was styled in a day to day vs a week by week, overall really enjoyed the fast and liked that I had a book to give me some direction.

Love the idea of the workbook along with the readings. It makes you dig deeper for a more satisfying fasting experience. Well written and easily understood for the experienced and layman faster. I've done the fast many times but, never knew of the workbook. Thank you

An excellent guide for those who chose to fast for Lent or personal reasons. Thoughtful meditations and food suggestions for any time period.
