Customer Reviews

In the book before this we ended on Aiden refusing to talk to Lucy because of the fact she kept that she found Chelsea on Tinder and didn't tell him about it. He is extremely hurt that the one person who he thought he could trust has let him down, even though Lucy had only his best interest at heart, he still wouldn't hear her out as for why she didn't say anything. We start off in this book finding out that it's been almost a month since Aiden last spoke to Lucy and she honestly feels so lost because of how much she misses talking to him, so when she messages him to find out if he still wants her to go to his sister's wedding with him but when he replies with just a simple reply she still is hurt. One the day of the wedding whilst she is getting ready before Aiden comes to pick her up she can't help feeling nervous, because she knows that Aiden isn't exactly happy with her still. So when he does get to her apartment he is shocked at what she is wearing but he still can't seem to be himself because he is hurting badly, for most of the day he is pretty blunt with her but as soon as he sees his sister he can't help but start to soften. When Lucy hears his speech about his sister after the wedding, she can't help but be mesmerised by him, she is finally starting to admit her feelings for him to herself and is honestly looking forward to making a go at things with him. After Aiden makes his speech he speaks to his dad for a little bit and is surprised with what he has to say about Lucy, but deep inside Aiden already knows that Lucy is the one girl for him, when he does go and find Lucy they sit down and have a small heart to heart but that is shortly ruined when Chelsea decides to crash the wedding.
